Concerns Our Future, Our Children, Our Actions

The General Assembly,

Shocked to learn that, according to the WHO report, 73 million babies are murdered every year by their own mothers, before they have even had the chance to experience the sight of this world,

Recalling Article three of the Declaration of Human Rights, which states that everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person, as well as the scientific definition of the term individual, which states that the individual is a being forming a distinct unit but also an organised body living with an existence of its own and which cannot be divided without being destroyed, these murders run counter to this,

Alarmed by the accelerated ageing of the population, particularly in Japan, Italy, Portugal, Finland and Greece, and by the proportion of people in their sixties, which, according to the WHO, will double by 2050, and which has already exceeded the proportion of five-year-olds, this senescence and therefore increase in the number of people requiring financial assistance is detrimental to the world economy and to the sustainability of humanity,

Congratulating those countries that have already taken action against these crimes, including The United States, which has thus slowed down the decline of life, has restored justice for these children of fetal age, but also saved the souls of the poor lost mothers and fathers by allowing them to experience the joy of creating life, and to found a family, but also by sparing them the suffering of a post-abortion syndrome, present in 80% of Spanish women, ,

Decides to ratify a treaty committing countries to;

- restrict voluntary termination of pregnancy to the first six weeks of pregnancy, which corresponds to the formation and beating of the heart and therefore of life;
- make a loan of $30,000 to each woman having her first child, repayable after 3 years or 3 years later on the arrival of the 2nd child with erasure of half the capital or total erasure of the capital on the birth of the 3rd child.
